

Dr Jessica Muehlberg

Dr. Jessica Muehlberg is currently a Senior Business Systems Analyst at Harvard University, served as a NEXUS Fellow for the City of Somerville, Massachusetts (Network for Exploring and Understanding Systems) and is the co-founder of StatusNovi, a Boston-based think tank looking to apply systems thinking to complex social issues. Jessica first started studying physical systems while working on her master's in Geology, but didn't gain a passion for social systems until completing her doctorate in Educational Administration at the University of Nevada, moving to Boston, and taking a summer class from Mark 'for fun'. She tweets as @drjmare.
