

Ms Susan Parvin Massoudi

Switzerland – UNICEF

Susan Parvin Massoudi was born in Iran and educated in the United States. At the very early stage of her professional career she moved to Southern Africa and began working in various development projects. Her passion for developments and in particular the wellbeing of children in the developing countries was her primary motive to join UNICEF, a UN agency which she has been with for the last 20 years. Currently, as a member of UNICEF Private Sector Head Quarter team in Geneva, Susan is involved in establishment and promotion of policy and procedures for securing the rights of children with major corporations, business environment worldwide.

